*Are the Reformers and their followers saved or lost?
What chances do they have for salvation?*

Untangling The Reformation

Who will be saved?

Hebrews 4:4-6 says that it is impossible for those who fall away to be brought back to repentance. But I know that many people have been restored after falling away. Are we following the Bible in this matter?

Untangling The Reformation

Who will be saved?

Is it possible to accept Christ as Lord and Savior (pray Jesus into your heart as we call it), then later be baptized in faithful obedience to God's Word, and truly be saved?

Untangling The Reformation

Who will be saved?

Some people in Acts were followers but had not been baptized in Jesus' name yet. Later, they were. Were they hellbound until then? Did they have to fully understand that they were saved only after coming out of the water of baptism?

Untangling The Reformation

Who will be saved?

How much did the disciples understand as they walked and talked with Jesus? From what I read, they didn't often understand much. They just obeyed.

Untangling The Reformation

Pendulum Effect

A large, tangled mass of various colored cables and wires, including black, grey, blue, yellow, and red, illustrating the concept of 'Untangling The Reformation' and the 'Pendulum Effect'. The cables are of different types, including power cords, network cables, and flat ribbon cables, all mixed together in a chaotic pile.

Untangling The Reformation

Pendulum Effect

Christianity has been a history of overreactions through the ages. Controversies started as early as the church started (1 Timothy 1:7). Each time a new truth is discovered, people group themselves around it and a new denomination is started. What is essential in all of this?

Untangling The Reformation

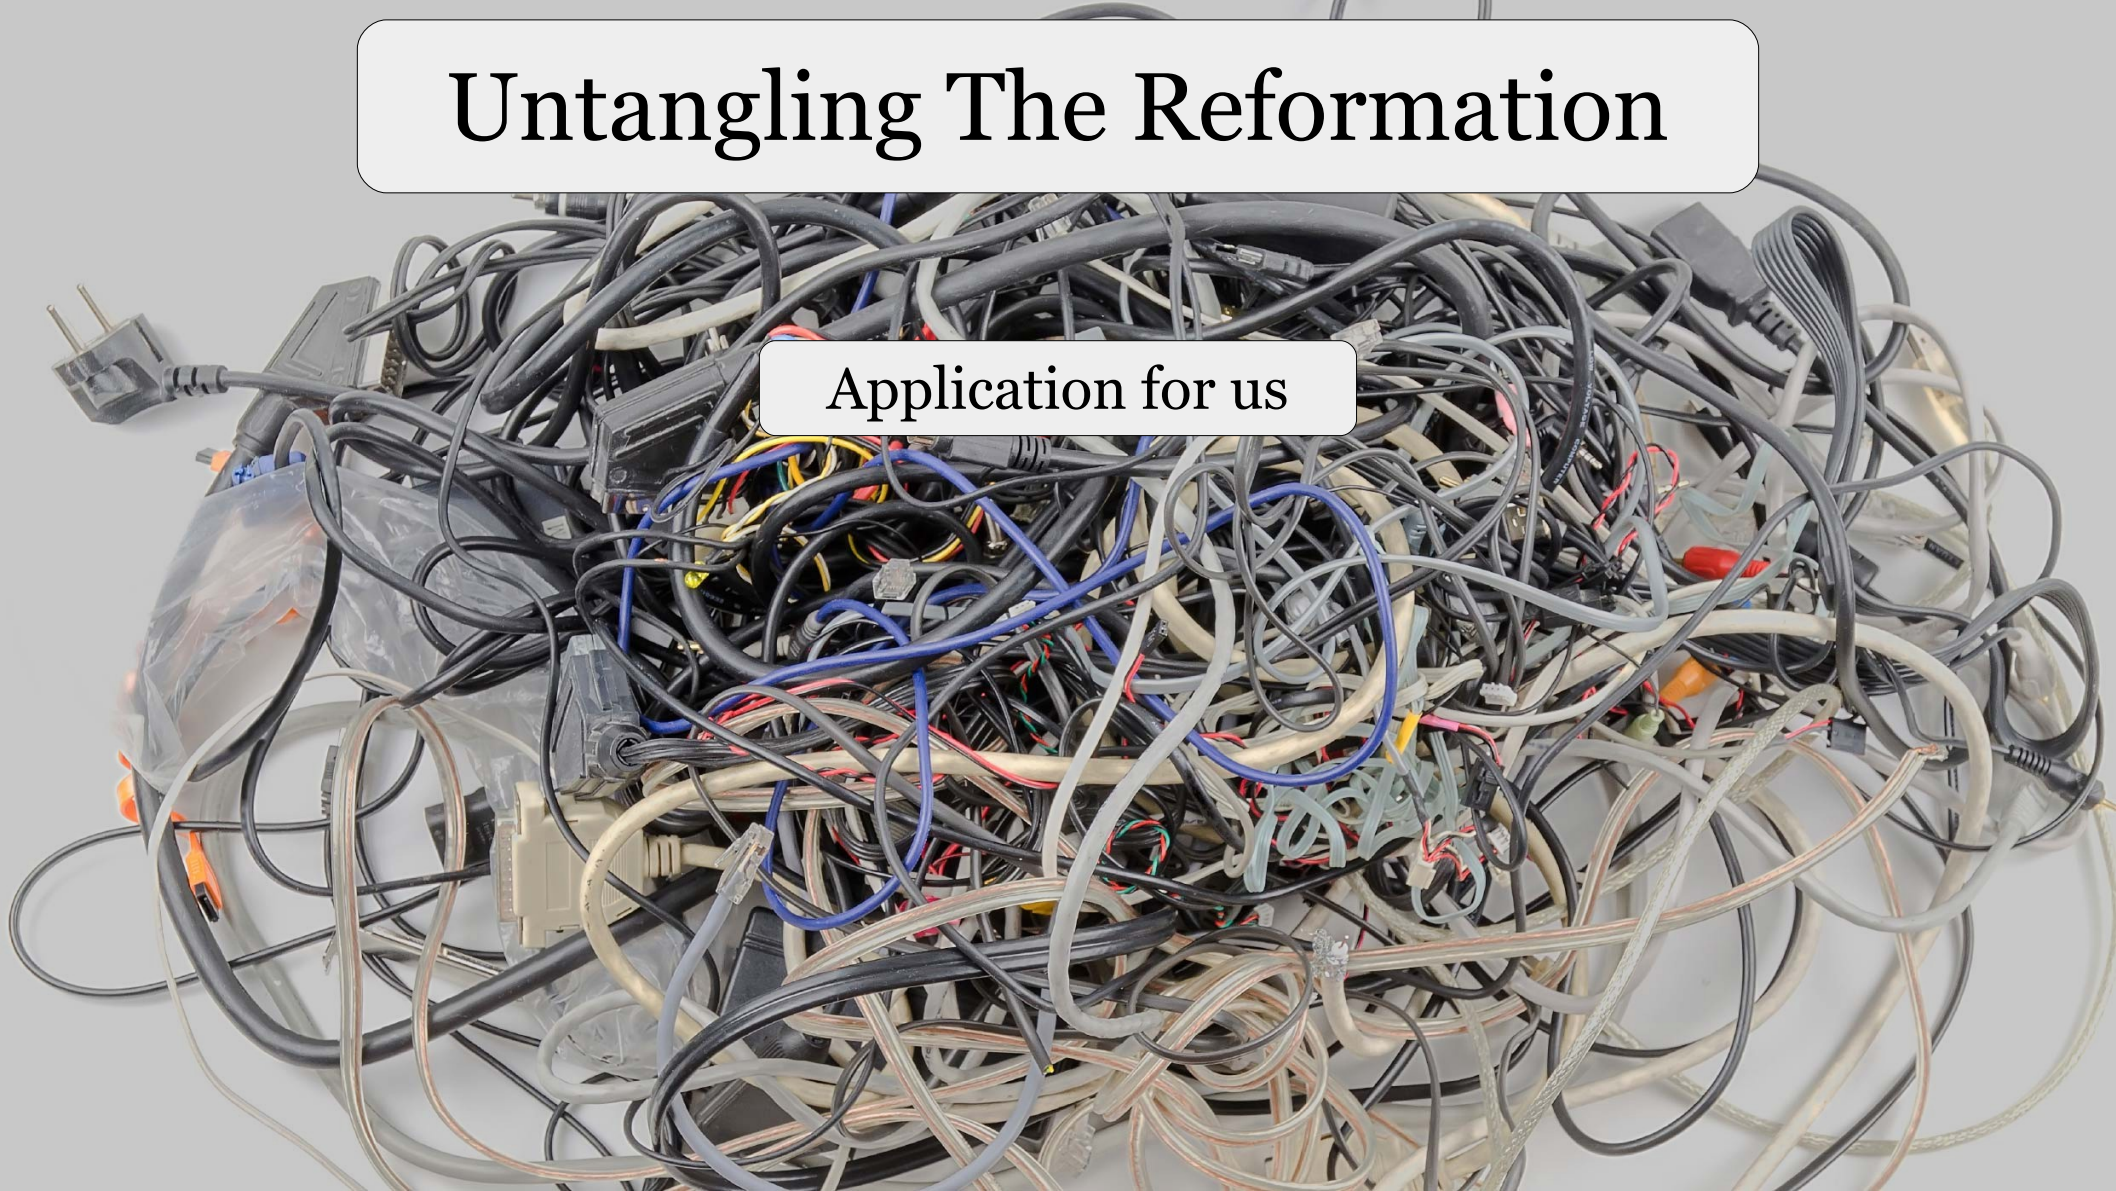

Pendulum Effect

Is it even possible to not be on a pendulum or is it even the point to avoid a pendulum ?
